KEY PROFESSIONAL TOOLS & MODELS DEVELOPED:

- 1988: REACTS Taxonomy: A Taxonomy of Research Reactions developed with Judy Pitts. Model focuses on strategies for ensuring high level thinking and resulting quality products.
- 2003: Stripling Model of Inquiry: Model for instruction, aligned with the Common Core Learning Standards, which builds on information fluency/inquiry skills and strategies necessary for active, in-depth learning. The model is being used currently both nationally and internationally – specific examples include the Library of Congress and the New York City School System.
- 2009: Supporting Inquiry with Primary Sources: Model & Video Series developed for the Library of Congress. Used by Teaching with Primary Sources sites throughout the country.
- 2010 Information Fluency Continuum (also known as Empire State Information Fluency Continuum): K-12 framework of information fluency/literacy skills that includes priority benchmarks and graphic-organizer assessments, as well as alignment with the Common Core.
- 2013-2014: Libraries Change Lives ALA Initiative: Strategic plan for the American Library Association for 2013-2014.
- 2013-2014: Declaration for the Right to Libraries: An advocacy document for community members to sign as their affirmation of the fundamental values that libraries bring to individuals and society.
- 2013-2014: Declaration for the Right to Libraries Toolkit: Toolkit for the cornerstone document of the ALA Presidential Initiative, Libraries Changes Lives. Covers action steps, talking points, and how to connect to other events happening nationally.

2013-2014: TEDx for Libraries: Presidential initiative to bring TEDx events in partnership with libraries all over the country.

2013-2014: ALA Taskforce on Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion: Fostered and guided the development of the Taskforce. The purpose of the Taskforce is to develop a plan and strategic actions to build more equity, diversity, and inclusion among ALA members, the field of librarianship, and communities across the country.
